

Director Recommendation from Actor of Playbox Multimedia Group

“Evin is a very organized and thorough director. He has a detailed vision for his productions, and makes sure that he communicates his ideas clearly to his actors and designers. However, he is also very open to others interpretations and ideas, and is willing to collaborate. Having worked with Evin as both an actor and a sound designer, I can safely say that I never once felt like he didn't have my back, while at the same time giving me liberty to be as creative as possible. He is strong-willed and will take a stand on what he thinks is right, yet his ultimate priority is what best serves the production. He works hard to deliver not only his personal best, but to push others to do the same.”
